

From the Pastor...

"Light and momentary troubles..."

There is nothing wrong with being realistic. To be realistic is to see things for what they are, the way they are, in actuality. To be realistic is to be sensible, to be practical, to understand the situation as it is.

But the corollary of realism is that sometimes, realism can lead to pessimism. Life can be hard.

And there are those times when life IS hard, very hard. For any number of reasons, we can face troubles of all kinds that are serious troubles. I'm struck by the way the Apostle Paul, who had many troubles of his own, writes about the afflictions that come in life. In 2 Corinthians, he categorizes the troubles of life in general as "light and momentary."

But sometimes, what folks go through is neither light nor momentary. I am aware, and you likely are also, of some folks in our church who are struggling with heavy (not light) burdens, with things that have lasted years (not momentary) with no end in sight. Health problems, relational problems, problems in our families, financial problems, conflicts, grief, burdens. To be realistic about it, these things are neither light nor momentary.

But Paul has a different perspective, which allows him to claim that all our troubles can be viewed as "light" and "momentary." The perspective is an eternal one. Paul writes in 2 Corinthians 4 "For our light and momentary troubles are achieving for us an eternal glory that far outweighs them all. So we fix our eyes not on what is seen, but what is unseen. For what is seen is temporary, but what is unseen is eternal."

Realism can lead to pessimism. But it doesn't have to. Our perspective – that is, seeing what we are experiencing in contrast to what is to come in our eternal future – can change how we understand the troubles we experience in this life. This is the faith perspective. It requires faith because, as Paul says, we must "fix our eyes not on what is seen, but what is unseen." This seems to be almost an oxymoron, an incompatibility: to fix our eyes on something that cannot be seen. But that is what the Lord through Paul tells us we must do in this life when troubles come.

The scripture says elsewhere "Let us fix our eyes on Jesus... who for the joy set before him (a future joy of Resurrection) endured the cross, scorning its shame..." (Hebrews 12) Paul says "If only for this life we have hope in Christ, we are of all people most to be pitied." (I Cor. 15:19).

Many years ago, my Baptist-minister granddad was nearing the end of his 3-year struggle with Alzheimer's and Parkinson's diseases. My mom tells of one day when she visited his room at the nursing home where he was provided the care his family could no longer provide on their own, my granddad was sitting in a rocking chair, staring forward as if his eyes were fixed elsewhere, repeating over and over again: "The resurrection, the resurrection." I believe his eyes were fixed on what is unseen that day. His troubles were very real, very hard. But the Resurrection was more real than anything else.

Eternal glory. The Unseen. The Resurrection. Now, that's realism in the realest sense of the word.

On Sunday, July 3rd, we are having a church cookout following worship. An item donation box is also located in The Hub for individual items you want to donate. Cash/check donations should be put in the offering (or mailed) and marked "Shoebox" in the memo and/or envelope. Return any boxes, items or monetary donations to the church by Sunday, July 3rd.
